August 6, 2010 – Atlanta, GA, — Clinical Resources, a woman owned and operated healthcare staffing and professional services firm, based in Atlanta, servicing nationwide, has selected Amistaff Healthcare Technology and its flagship product NurseTesting, to manage and standardize the testing and screening of healthcare professionals. As a NurseTesting user Clinical Resources is able to create better efficiencies within their hiring process that ensures placing a highly qualified healthcare professional within their clients' facilities.

“We are pleased to partner with Nurse Testing as we continue to improve the services we provide our clients. They have incorporated all the necessary tools for a healthcare staffing firm to meet industry standards and client needs, including comprehensive skills validations and testing exams. Because of NurseTesting.com, we know we will place only the most quality and competent nurses. This further supports our company mission of “Providing Consistent and Predictable Results”, states Jennifer Scully, President of Clinical Resources LLC.

NurseTesting is the market leader in competency testing for healthcare staffing firms and hospitals nationwide. NurseTesting's Nationally Validated Content is unmatched in the marketplace. Through the use of the Test Validation and Analysis Program (TVAP), NurseTesting is able to provide actual analytics, metrics and benchmarks that substantiate the validity and reliability of its content, as well as reducing potential adverse impact for its clients.

James Ostmann, Chief Nursing Officer for NurseTesting states "In an industry that strives to bring qualified and competent clinicians to the bedside, NurseTesting is honored to assist Clinical Resources in the screening and testing of their clinicians. Through the use of Nationally Validated competency exams, Clinical Resources and their customers will feel comfortable that only qualified candidates will be considered. Hence, better qualified clinicians will directly impact the quality of care being provided and reduce the liability across the continuum."
